American Armies Under General Pershing Are Not Being Outdone by Other Allies in Delivery of Blows on the Crumbling German Lines.

THREE HUNDRED AND FIFTY PLANES ASSEMBLED ON AMERICAN FRONT BOMB GERMAN WAR AREAS

(By The War Editor of The Associated Press)

Vigorously pressing the advantage gained by the breaking of the German line between Cambrai and St. Quentin the British, French and American armies have widened the great wedge in this area to such an extent that the entire German front from Rheims northward seems to be collapsing.

The disintegration of this line is being hastened by the vigorous strokes delivered by the French along the Aisne river while further east the German left flank in the battle area is being hammered hard by other French forces and the American forces in the Champagne, Argonne and Verdun regions.

Most telling in its immediate effect is the thrust southeast of Cambrai where American troops also are operating. The British commander has swung the main direction of his drive northeastward and already has pushed to within two miles of the important railway junction of LaCateau.

The taking of LaCateau which seems imminent, will cut the last of the lateral railway lines connecting the German northern front with the salient of Laon and apparently make inevitable the evacuation of the entire Laon area.

Before LaCateau the British are on a line fully 10 miles in advance of the longitudinal line running between Cambrai and St. Quentin, having swept through the greater part of this area in great strides, driving before them a disorganized enemy. Meanwhile further south the French are moving forward toward the Oise in the general direction of Guise. They have made notable progress to the east and south of St. Quentin. The French have passed Fontaine Notre Dame, nearly 6 miles directly east of St. Quentin. This push is likewise having an effect in closing the Laon pocket.

The American first army under General Pershing is not being outdone by the other allies in the delivery of hard blows upon the crumbling German defensive system. The thrust east of the Meuse in the Verdun area is being followed up with further attacks which have resulted in the advance of the line here, well up toward that won by the offensive west of the river.

In the Argonne where a junction has been effected with the French at Luncheon thus virtually clearing the forest of Germans, new attacks were launched this morning. All the recent gains of General Pershing's men have been held in the face of the throwing in of German reserves.

Not the least interesting development of the American campaign is the work of the air forces, which have been assembled in such numbers that an American bombing expedition which dropped more than 30 tons of bombs on German areas on Wednesday, comprised no less than 350 machines.

"COME UP HIGHER" CALL IS ANSWERED BY REV. G. L. HART

Popular Pastor of The First Baptist Church, Succumbs to Apoplexy—Was Genuine Community Force and Man Loved and Respected by All Who Knew Him.

Rev. George L. Hart, beloved pastor of the First Baptist church, passed quietly into the eternal peace, Thursday morning about seven o'clock, after five weeks of illness resultant upon a stroke of apoplexy. The skill of expert medical service and nursing were unavailing to save this life of such importance to church, community and home.

While not unexpected Rev. Hart's death is felt to be an irreparable loss. When, not quite two years ago Rev. Hart gave up the pastorate of the First Baptist church at Eagle Grove, Iowa, to accept the pastorate of the First Baptist church of this city, Dr. Henry F. Stillwell, one of the prominent men of the Baptist denomination, said of him: "Wherever he has gone he has been a community force."

This simple eulogy has been verified in Rev. Hart's brief residence in Washington. Not only the people of his church but the community at large appreciated him and the cheery word, helpful smile and sympathetic nature which made him everybody's friend. A man of broad vision, up to the minute in his thoughts, yet deeply spiritual, he possessed those qualities which made him popular both as preacher and pastor.

He took an active part in all church movements of the city as well as those of community betterment and threw himself with heart and soul into war work, being one of the most popular four minute men of the town. The members of Rev. Hart's church are deeply saddened by his death and realize that it will be difficult to fill his place. In the rare confidence of his people this pastor had attained the definite goal of winning their affections and of stimulating their spiritual life. He never spared himself in service for his people and was very happy in the way his church was building up and the good it was accomplishing. He threw himself with heart and soul into everything which was of moment to his church and parishioners.

Rev. G. L. Hart.

The home circle of the Hart family was unusually close and the ideal relations now severed arouse warm sympathy for the widow and two daughters, Mrs. Hazel Mooney, of Cleveland, and Mrs. Isadore Johnson, of Akron. Two brothers and two sisters in Cleveland, also survive. Both daughters were with their father during the last weeks of his illness.

For twenty years Rev. Hart was successfully engaged in ministerial work in Ohio and the news of his death will be learned with much regret throughout the state. Owing to the restrictions occasioned by the epidemic no funeral services can be held and the large number of people who would like to pay farewell tribute to the fine man and eloquent preacher by attending such services, will be unable to do so.

The burial will be made at the old home at Seville, O., the family leaving here with the body on the 4:42 B. & O. train Saturday morning.

It really isn't a fabric—but a Fairy's breath frozen into permanence by the hand of an expert weaver and brodered with florets of frost crystals which do not melt. And yet, in spite of this seeming delicacy and elusive charm, it's a very durable and very serviceable kind of a curtain.

THE MOST DANGEROUS DISEASE

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Danger is in sight.

Find out what the trouble is—with-out delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back or difficulty in passing urine—wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. There are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system. Get some GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules at once. They are an old, tried preparation used all over the world for centuries. They contain only old-fashioned, soothing oils combined with strength-giving and system-cleansing herbs, well known and used by physicians in their daily practice. AYE BOY WE WILL

I N fancy I see them winding up the white roads of France, our boys, the fair youth of our land, flung into this hell-vanity of one man with six unwounded sons.
What has the Kaiser put but words?
I see the checker-board flags of France, unhappy France, and our own marching up the road, I can hear voices floating back to me. Familiar phrases!
"You son-of-a-gun!"
"Old Scout!"
"You betcha!"
"Treat 'em rough!"
I HEAR songs. I hear Yankee Doodle sung as it was never sung before. I near the Battle Hymn of the Republic, and I have goose-pimples. "Oh, boy, where do we go from here?" I laugh, with a tight feeling in my throat.

Lean, lithe, tanned, swinging boys. The whites of their eyes are clear, their skins glow. Lord, the fresh life of them!

On, on, through aisles of plane trees. Sometimes a boy turns his head westward. What's he thinking of as he nears the Hell on earth? Folks back home. He isn't thinking in terms of Liberty Bonds. He's just sort of wondering if we're going to stick behind him.

BEFORE God, we are, boy! And the only way we can stick is to buy bonds.
You are giving your life. What the devil do we care about our dollars? You'll get your coffee and slug it if we have to pawn the shirt off our backs.
That's the way we feel today. Never you doubt it.
Six billion dollars!
Will we give it? Wait and see!

The young soldier who came over for the masks also took back a bunch of magazines for the convalescents.

TEN YEAR OLD GIRL WANTS TO ADOPT MOTHERLESS BABIES

The following letter from a ten-year-old New England girl was received, recently, at the Paris office of the American Red Cross:

"I love babies. If you have any motherless babies I would be pleased to have you send me one. I would want a girl as young as it can be and pretty. My mother says I can have one. She and I would take care of it. I would take care of it most of the time when I am home. I think babies are cunning and I am crazy over them. I think they are the cutest things I ever saw. If I had one I would try to take care of it right. I would be pleased to have one about (1) day old when you send it because it would be quite old when it got here."

R. C. WAREHOUSE SCENE OF FAMOUS NOVEL

The American Red Cross warehouse, at No. 90, Rue du Chemin Vert, Paris, occupies a site that was the scene of much of the action in Victor Hugo's novel, "Les Misérables." While writing the story, the author lived at one end of the street at the other end was the convent in which Jean Valjean took refuge.

RED CROSS FOLKS UNDER SHELL FIRE

(American Press)
Washington, Oct. 10.—Lieutenant Clifford A. Cochran of New York and Lieutenant Carl S. Stillman of Walsley, Mass., attached to the department of military affairs of the American Red Cross, have been commended by the commanding officer of a Bersaglier brigade on the Italian front for bravery displayed in the performance of duty. In a letter to the field headquarters on the Italian front of the Red Cross the brigade commander says the lieutenants "voluntarily entered the first lines to effect their usual distribution of comforts to the soldiers, and accomplished their task in an admirable manner, even during the violent fire of an artillery duel."

SIX CHILDREN ARE ORPHANED

John Moss and wife, residing on the Good Hope and Lyndon pike, four miles southeast of Good Hope add just over the line in Ross county, succumbed to the ravages of influenza and pneumonia within a period of 24 hours, leaving six small children, two of whom are seriously ill, with pneumonia, and one of whom is expected to die at any time.

The father, who was a son of Thomas Moss, formerly employed in the Stutson store in this city, was stricken several days ago, and a short time later the mother developed the disease.

Neighbors, fearing that they would contract the disease, rendered little or no assistance, it is understood, and when assistance reached the stricken family it came too late.

The health authorities of upper Ross county, headed by Dr. Kelley, of South Salem, have taken the matter in charge with the result that two nurses have been placed in the home in an effort to save the children.

Regarding the case Dr. Kelley on Thursday morning said: "Now is no time for people to become unduly frightened, but to lend a hand where ever necessary."

The First Step to Peace

The clean cut, straightforward, honest and understanding American diplomacy relentlessly strips the German proposals of all deceiving phrases, leaving the dishonest intent exposed, in its hideous nakedness, to the gaze of the world.

The death of that autocracy which has plunged the world into war and committed all the barbaric deeds which have horrified the world for four long years, is the one condition precedent to peace.

The German people must ask for peace and the German people must agree to peace—the Hohenzollerns father and sons must release the grip they have on the people of Germany.

It is going to be impossible for the divine right rulers and the militarists of Germany to secure a negotiated peace. President Wilson's reply to the peace proposals again emphasized that intention of the allies.

If the German people would save their land from invasion they must act quickly and in a way that admits of no question as to its sincerity. The armies of the Kaiser are doomed to be destroyed utterly and finally. Whether the work of destruction proceeds to its conclusion by the allied armies or whether it is done at once by the German people is entirely for Germany to decide.

In any event the terms of peace will be dictated by the allied governments. There can be no misunderstanding those facts. The world is determined that the armies of the Kaiser shall not escape destruction. There is to be no make-believe about it, either. It is not to be a matter of form, it is to be a matter of substance and reality.

The Huns must be made—Forced—to know not only that their armies can't conquer the world, but that the world can and has conquered and destroyed those armies.

Apples

There is a never-ending train of automobiles and trucks these days coming from the hill country to the south of us. Scores of automobiles come back to Washington every day loaded with sacks, boxes and barrels filled with apples.

These apples are not for sale. They are the highly prized possession of local folks who have gone down into the country where the apples grow in abundance and have loaded up with Grimes Golden, Bellflower, and every and any other of the many good "cookers" and good "eaters" to be found in abundance at moderate prices.

Folks here, where apple growing seems to be a lost art, are providing for the long winter evenings when they'll sit by the fireside, "eat an apple a day and keep the doctor away."

The scarcity of other kinds of fruits and the high prices they command on the market are compelling folks, who must have a spread of some sort for their bread, to look again with favor on the plain old apple butter of by-gone days.

There has been, with the coming of the apples from the hills this fall, many a long unused brass or copper kettle resurrected from the out of the way corner and placed in all its old time grandeur in the backyard where neighbor folks join in making apple butter and, while the wood crackles under the kettle with its boiling, bubbling contents, discuss the issues of the locality and the nation, express their opinion of the food administration, market prices and what bargains they picked up in the hills.

There is a long train of comfortable times stretching along in front of each load of apples that comes to town.

"Force to The Utmost"

Preceding and supporting the attack by the British and Americans, on Tuesday between St. Quentin and Cambrai, the artillery fire is described as perhaps the most terrific of the whole war.

The massed cannon of the British and Americans were so numerous that they stood—those big steel monsters—wheel to wheel along that entire front.

When we realize what that means in monster guns and ammunition, what it means as a destructive force we can understand then one of the reasons why the great Hun defense lines have been smashed; why the armies have been driven back from stronghold after stronghold and why already more than one fourth of the heavy artillery of the enemy has been taken by the allies and the most gigantic retreat of all history begun.

Then when we learn that the ordnance department of the army is asking for one billion one hundred million dollars more to buy heavy guns for use on the battle front in France we know that President Wilson's promise to use "force to the uttermost" is being lived up to literally.

POEM FOR TODAY

A PLEA TO PARENTS
Can you, that have a father's heart
Endure your fireside ease.
While tiny children shrink and start
In terror, overseas?
'Tis not enough—the tear that falls
From sympathetic eyes!
Let not your friendly, pictured walls
Shut out their anguished cries.

Oh, mother, kissing downy heads
Pressed safe against your breast,
Can you not feel for her who dreams
The hours wherein you rest?
Who plans a family hiding place
(Like rats that run from light).—
Who daily schools her heart to face
The Fear that flies by night!

You parents in this Children's Land,
How can you watch their play,
And still withhold a helping hand
To crutch that Beast, at bay!
How long before your breaking sight
Be forced to look on Death.
As close to you as now its fright
Is choking baby-breath!

Give more! Give all! Can Peace be crowned
While Might usurps the throne?
Where on this earth can Peace be found
While Fear reigns, Fear alone?

O GOD! Great Parent of us all!
Light in our souls Thy fire!
Unstop our ears to Pity's call,—
Our wills to deeds inspire!
—Marie L. Eglinton.

INJURED MAN ON WAY TO RECOVERY

Dale Wilson, seriously injured when his auto struck a bridge on the Devalon road, Wednesday morning about 1:30 o'clock, was removed to the home of his father on Columbus avenue, Wednesday evening, and is now believed to be on the way to ultimate recovery.

HUNS USE MOVIES TO INSTRUCT MEN

(Associated Press Correspondence)
With the American Forces in France September 28. — Before going into battle German soldiers in certain instances are shown moving pictures of the country through which they are supposed to pass during the proposed advance.

Information reached the American officers recently that moving pictures had been put on the screen for the benefit of the Germans who took part in the offensive which started July 15 in the Marne country, the pictures showing certain stretches of land so as to familiarize the invaders with the terrain. Some of the wooded districts and fields shown on the films were never reached by the Germans owing to the counter attack of the French and Americans which began on the morning of July 18, completely upsetting the German plans.

HOW HUNS TREAT THE CIVILIANS

(By Associated Press Cable)
With the American troops in France, October 4.—Renewed evidence of German ruthlessness in dealing with the civilian population of invaded territories is contained in a captured army order. It prescribes the treatment and the procedure to be followed in a section south of the Vesle river (Marne Salient.)

All the inhabitants capable of working, the order says, must be used for the needs of the army, regardless of their age. Their "salaries" are to be paid in paper currency at the rate of 50 cents a day as the maximum for men; 40 cents for men and women between the ages of 17 and 20; and 30 cents for boys from 15 to 17.

The inhabitants, however, must pay in French gold or silver for their rations. The supplies of course were taken from the population before being sold back to them.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 10. — Word has been received of the death in action in France on July 10 of William R. Connell, professor of Spanish at Princeton university. Professor McConnell is the sixth member of the faculty to be reported in the casualty list.

ALL THEATRES IN COLUMBUS MUST CLOSE UP

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., October 10.—As a precautionary measure to guard against the spread of Spanish influenza, Dr. Lewis Kahn, city health officer, today ordered all theaters and motion picture houses to close their doors until further notice.

Schools and churches have not been ordered closed. The order will not affect the national dairy show being held on the state fair grounds in this city.

OHIO NEWS

Schools and Churches Closed.
Port Clinton, O., Oct. 10.—Schools, churches, shows and public meeting places were closed through the action of the local board of health as a matter of precaution to prevent the spreading of influenza, of which there are many cases here.

Boys Ask For Magazines.
Chillicothe, O., Oct. 10.—The main library at Camp Sherman has been closed. The boys are asking for magazines to while away the hours which they must spend in loneliness unless the people at home respond with a will to the appeal for magazines, of recent date. No books are desired.

Gatherings Prohibited.
Mansfield, O., Oct. 10.—Local health officials drew the quarantine lines more rigidly than before against the influenza epidemic. Thirty new cases were reported, bringing the total up to over 500. The ban against gatherings of all kinds will not be lifted for 10 days.

Ann Jones Dead.
Youngstown, O., Oct. 10.—Former Lieutenant Governor Ann W. Jones died at his home at Burghill, Trumbull county, near here. He had been ill six months with heart disease. During the first administration of Governor J. B. Foraker he was appointed judge advocate general. He was a candidate for the nomination for governor when chosen as running mate for Asa S. Bushnell in 1896.

Drastic Action Taken.
Dayton, O., Oct. 10.—Following a consultation between city officials and officials of the McCook aviation field, it was decided to close all schools, theaters and churches immediately to prevent a further spread of the influenza here. Two hundred cases are under observation by city authorities. At the Wright field there are 530 cases.

War Work Delayed.
Columbus, Oct. 10.—The walkout of several hundred machinists, employed on government work in three or four of the larger Columbus machine shops, which took place a week ago, is still unsettled, and war work is being delayed in consequence, according to some of the employers. The men struck for an eight-hour day. The matter has been put up to the government by the employers and prompt action is anticipated.

Only One Corn Peeler, "Gets-It"

Stop Corn Pains; See Corn Peel Off.
It is just when a corn hurts that you want to feel sure about getting rid of it. Why take chances of keeping the corn and having the pain grow worse? You'll use "Gets-It."

The Only Peel-It-Off Way Is "Gets-It." It's anyhow, sooner or later, might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or puttering. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It" does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It" was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It" and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Washington C. H. and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Brown's Drug Store and Blackmer & Tanquary.

Where is now the merry pardner? Is the pertinent question asked by the New York Sun.

Talk about man shortage—the lady dancers scarcely know what to do about it. There are few dancing men in the country who have not kicked off their dancing pumps and rushed away to war.

Que faire! as they say in French novels and Parisian life. Well the only thing for the deserted lady dancers to faire was to perform a pas seul for the duration of the war or to substitute woman.

Coming as a surprise to the many friends of the young couple is the announcement of the marriage of Robert Harley Thompson to Miss Mable Janette Purdin, of Greenfield, on Tuesday, October the eighth.

Rev. Paist, of the Presbyterian church, of Hillsboro officiated.

Both young people are quite young. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Purdin, of Greenfield, and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thompson of this city. They are now receiving best wishes at the home of the bride's parents in Greenfield, where they will reside for the present.

The bridegroom has been associated with his father in the Thompson Transfer Co., but is in this draft and expects soon to enter military service.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Purdin gave a wedding supper.

The South Charleston dance for which invitations had been issued for Friday night, October the 11th, has been postponed owing to the prevailing epidemic.

As long as you keep blue sky in your mind, you are all right, no matter what happens." This from Madame Galli-Curci, who is now in Columbus. In response to the greetings of friends yesterday and their exclamations on her appearance of splendid health, she said: "Oh, yes, I am very well—considering. Fortunately I have a good disposition; and I can still see the blue sky."

Only she said "desposition," and other words to correspond. She made no other reference to recent marital difficulties.

Madame and her little entourage arrived in Columbus Tuesday evening, coming from Lansing, where she sang Monday. They are staying at the Deshler, where the great diva will remain quietly until her concert in Memorial Hall Friday evening.

Galli-Curci looked more than ever like the Mona Lisa or some other painting by one of the old Italian masters as she donned her poke bonnet with its pink rose and her chiffon and fur scarf to match her taupe suit and sallied forth, under the convoy of two eager interviewers, to buy a fan, all gold spangled, to flit before the eyes of her audience Friday evening. She has perhaps gained in weight a bit since she was last here; and it is most becoming. To her quiet summer in the Catskills she attributes her state of blooming health. It was not a summer of idleness.

MRS. HARRY REYNOLDS IS LAID TO REST TODAY

Simple and affecting services over all that was mortal of Mrs. Harry Reynolds were held Thursday morning at the Washington cemetery.

A long line of autos filled with the friends from the Reynolds neighborhood, the Quod Hope and Manara neighborhoods, the homes of the Nelson families, Mrs. Reynolds being the daughter of Mr. John Nelson, and from this city, accompanied those of the family able to attend this last service.

The young husband, convalescent from the same disease which had been fatal to his wife, was not permitted by physicians to leave the house and the only sister, Mrs. McKinley Anderson, was too ill to attend, she and her husband both contracting the disease while nursing Mrs. Reynolds.

The entire circumstances attendant upon this death added to the deep sorrow of her loss and the sympathy of the community went out to the group gathered so sadly around the grave.

The services were conducted by Rev. Vandegriff, of Tangleton, former pastor of the Nelson family.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Wirt Reynolds, Jess Reynolds, Howard LaFollette, Harry Parrett, Roy Downs, Ernest Arbogast.

Many beautiful flowers surrounding the casket gave fragrant expression of the affection of family and friends.

ELEVEN IN SMALL HOME STRICKEN

The trustees of Concord township were notified by Dr. West, of Sabina, Thursday, that eleven persons, including the family of Bert Williamson, and several visitors at the Williamson home in "Stringtown" were seriously ill with influenza and pneumonia in one small home of two or three rooms, and that immediate attention was necessary.

Two of the eleven were in a condition which probably would speedily result in death, and many others of the group would perish unless speedy relief was furnished, according to Dr. West.

The township trustees took the matter up immediately.

WILLIE RITCHIE

Two detectives and a policeman who were whipped recently at the Union Station at St. Louis, Mo., by a lone soldier named "Willie," are now in a high state of elation, and are proudly showing their battle scars. For "Willie," who was captured only after a mass attack, was not Willie Ritchie, as was reported, but Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion boxer of the world, according to a report from St. Louis. Ritchie, boxing instructor at Camp Jones, Douglas, Ariz., said he had been on a furlough. He was discharged with a reprimand by the Police Judge.

"TAPS" SOUND FOR PVT. JENNINGS BLAND

The twentieth Fayette county boy to give his life in the service of his country was Private Jennings Bland, only son of Mr. J. W. Bland, of Paint township, who passed away at Camp Sherman Tuesday night at 11:30 o'clock after an illness of ten days, due to influenza which developed into pneumonia.

The young man made a brave struggle against the disease, but the deadly disease had fastened its hold upon him never to let go, and death came quietly with his anxious father at his bedside.

Private Bland, who had a host of friends in this neighborhood, was barely past 21 years, and was inducted into the military service early last month. The young man's mother passed away several years ago.

The body was shipped to this city in charge of Undertaker Klever, arriving here Thursday morning and was later removed to the home of his father, near Yatesville. Corporal Bath, of Cincinnati, escorted the body to this city.

Funeral services will be held at Union Chapel M. E. church, Yatesville, Saturday morning at ten o'clock, and a military funeral will be held, with interment in the Sedalia cemetery.

The casket in which the body of the young man was placed was one of great beauty, and the first of its kind to reach this part of Ohio, the top being of blue broadcloth containing white stars, with a border of white, and drapery of delicately tinted national colors around the sides just above the handles—a fitting couch for the handsome young figure in uniform sleeping the sleep of one who has given his life for his country, his home and his friends.

FRENCH ARE USING YANKEE CHASERS

(Associated Press Correspondence)

A French Atlantic Port, October 1. —France in her work of safeguarding the coast from mines and submarines is using a large number of motor launches of the standardized American type which came over under their own steam with a loss of only one out of fifty.

One of the most successful boats used for the work is the canoniere, which, working with Diesel engines, can steam 3,000 miles at ten knots an hour without refuelling, and so could cross to the United States under its own power. The craft carries guns enough to deal with any submarine, as well as depth charges, and its low draught enables it to travel over minefields that would wreck a destroyer. The average size of this vessel is about 400 tons.

For mine-sweeping the French use an economical form of trawl. The sweep is towed astern, being held out by floats, and the trawl itself has ingenious under-water appliances for keeping it at the required depth, and a new device for cutting a mine adrift whenever it touches the trawl line.

GERMAN VANDALS AFTER HOSPITALS

Behind The American Lines, September 30. —Bombed again and again by German aviators and suffering casualties in dead and wounded, the American hospital unit formerly located at Jouy under the command of Major Charles R. The new location of the hospitals is situated amid the desolation wrought by the Germans during their retreat from the Marne. Ruined houses, wrecked public buildings and churches mark the neighborhood.

CONDITIONS AS SHOWN BY CROP REPORT

Most Crops Are Very Good and Production Is Not Disquieting. According to An Official Crop Report Issued This Afternoon

Spring Wheat Beats the Winter Wheat in Yield Says Report.

Columbus, O., October 10.—The first joint report of the Ohio Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates issued at the State House at Columbus today shows a large production of all small grains in Ohio this year. Many counties report "bumper" crops of oats as well as other grains. Spring wheat, where grown, yielded more bushels per acre than winter wheat. The corn and potato crop, because of droughts and early frosts, are somewhat below the ten-year average. Fruit crops are below average. The hay crop is better than last year and above the ten year average. Clover seed has been hurt by grasshoppers and wet weather.

CORN. The condition of the corn crop on October 1 is reported at 76 per cent of normal, compared to 82 per cent on October 1 last year and a ten-year average of 83 per cent. Based on the October 1 condition, a total production of 125,420,000 bushels is forecasted, compared to 150,100,000 bushels last year. It will be recalled that because of early killing frosts last year, a large part of the corn was soft and unfit to crib. The quality of the crop is much better this year. The low condition of the crop on Oct. 1st this year is due to the excessive droughts during July and August, the damage to the crop being especially severe in the central and southeastern counties. Several of the counties southeast of Columbus have scarcely more than half a crop.

WINTER WHEAT. The reports indicate an average yield of winter wheat of somewhat better than 19 bushels per acre for the State, or a total estimated production of 38,722,000 bushels, compared to 41,140,000 bushels last year. The ten-year average yield for the State is 16.4 bushels, with an average production of about 28,000,000 bushels a year. The quality of the crop is high. The highest average yields were secured in the northwestern and north central districts, where the returns show average yields between 22 and 23 bushels per acre.

The fall seeding of wheat is progressing favorably, the weather for the past two or three weeks being almost ideal for the cutting of corn and sowing wheat. The crop in some sections has been sown from a week to ten days earlier than usual, and much of it is already up. In the northeastern part of the State however, heavy rains delayed planting, so that unless favorable growing weather continues during October, the crop there is likely to go into the winter in rather poor condition.

RYE. The average yield of rye per acre is estimated at 17 bushels per acre, with a total estimated production of 1,632,000 bushels, compared to 1,620,000 bushels last year, and an average production, for the last five years of 1,350,000 bushels. The crop was generally good throughout the State.

SPRING WHEAT. The average yield of spring wheat is estimated at 21.5 bushels per acre or about 20 bushels an acre more than winter wheat. The preliminary estimates of spring wheat for the state was 15,000 acres, which would give a total production for the State of 322,500 bushels. Weather conditions have been favorable for the crop the past two years, resulting in large yields and indications point to an increase in the acreage in the northwestern counties next spring.

OATS. The estimated average yield of oats for the State is 44 bushels per acre, compared to a ten-year average of 34.6 bushels. The preliminary statement of acreage planted was 1,917,000 acres which gives a total production of 81,348,000 bushels. Remarkably high yields are reported from many counties in the northern and western districts.

BARLEY. The average yield per acre of barley is estimated at 32.5

bushels compared with 35 bushels last year and a ten-year average of 28.1 bushels. The total production for the State is placed at 1,462,500 bushels, compared to 1,320,000 bushels last year.

BUCKWHEAT. The condition of buckwheat on October 1 is estimated at 79 per cent of normal, compared to 87 per cent on October 1 last year and a ten-year average of 82 per cent. Total estimated production about 500,000 bushels compared to 430,000 bushels last year.

IRISH POTATOES. The condition of Irish potatoes on October 1 is reported at 64 per cent of normal, compared to 89 per cent on October 1 last year and a ten-year average of 70 per cent. The total production of early and late potatoes is now estimated at 11,284,000 bushels, compared to 16,000,000 bushels last year. The reduced yields are due to the long period of drought at the time much of the crop was setting, as well as to the extremely hot weather during the first two weeks of August. Some of the late planted potatoes have shown considerable improvement during September and will make better than an average crop.

WHEAT SEED. The condition of wheat seed on October 1 is estimated at 64 per cent of normal, compared to 69 per cent on October 1 last year and a five year average of 77 per cent. The total production is now estimated at 310,400 bushels. Grasshopper damage is reported from practically every portion of the State.

TOBACCO. The condition of the tobacco crop at time of harvest is estimated at 90 per cent of normal, compared with 87 per cent last year and a ten-year average of 81 per cent. Total production estimated at 112,363,000 pounds compared to 99,072,000 pounds last year.

APPLES. The apple crop, except in well cared for orchards is small, especially through the central counties from the Indiana line east. A few counties report almost a total failure. The returns show that only 41 per cent of a normal crop will be produced, compared to a ten-year average of 50 per cent. The commercial apple crop for the State is now estimated at 862,000 barrels compared to 532,000 barrels last year.

CLOSE FRENCH EATING HOUSES

Paris, September 30. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press) — Two of the leading restaurants at Bordeaux have been closed to American soldiers by their military authorities because of exorbitant prices.

One cafe is said to have charged two American officers $3.50 for four eggs and two small glasses of beer, while another exacted $1.80 for a coffee. Sentinels were placed at the doors to warn men in American uniforms that they were not allowed to enter either establishment.

MILITARY DISASTER SCENTED BY HUNS CAUSED PEACE NOTE

(American Press)

Washington, Oct. 10. — Germany's plea for an armistice is founded upon recognition in Berlin of the fact that the German army organization in France is slowly disintegrating under the terrific campaign of Marshal Foch, in the opinion of American and allied officers here.

These officers regard the move of the German chancellor as a desperate eleventh-hour attempt to escape serious military disaster, and they would not be surprised if President Wilson's condition that there can be no talk of an armistice except when coupled with agreement to withdraw immediately from all invaded territory were promptly accepted.

The answer to such a move, it was suggested, would be to leave to Marshal Foch the dictation of the terms of the armistice should the situation ever reach that stage, as the supreme commander can be trusted to see that no military advantage to the enemy resulted.

Evidence of the waning resisting power of the German forces in France was plainly seen by observers here in the sweep forward of the Anglo-British forces north of St. Quentin. Apparently there has been no material lowering of the fighting quality of the enemy soldiers, but there is every evidence that the complex military organization upon which defense of the long battle front depends is breaking under the strain. Signs of confusion have been noted repeatedly. Wornout divisions have been called upon to check the assault of fresh allied troops and have been cut to pieces.

These are signs only, for the enemy front still offers a grim obstacle to the advancing armies and the battle is growing daily in fury instead of lessening. But the signs are there. They mean a vital weakness at the heart of the great machine; the absolute lack of men and war equipment to meet the combined assault indefinitely.

LOAN PROGRESS BEHIND SCHEDULE

(American Press)

Washington, Oct. 10.—Prompted by unfavorable reports of the last few days, many liberty loan organizations throughout the country adopted the slogan "Double the third" as a campaign cry. Officials are frankly puzzled over the situation shown by the reports. In spite of the most favorable accounts of local achievements coming from all parts of the country, discouraging totals are shown in the subscriptions cleared through the federal reserve banks. Compared with the third loan at the same period of the campaign, the fourth is behind in actual money returns. The entire police force of New York city, organized as a "shock corps," has started its drive to obtain $50,000,000 from the sale of liberty bonds.

The treasury department openly admitted that the slow progress of the fourth liberty loan toward its $6,000,000,000 goal is a matter of serious concern. "There is no use in denying or attempting to camouflage the fact that liberty loan committees throughout the country are confronted with a serious situation," said the treasury statement, reviewing the campaign reports. "If the loan is to be subscribed, a daily average of $467,000,000 must be raised between now and Oct. 19."

WILSON QUERIES EMBARRASSING TO CHANCELLOR

(American Press)

Washington, Oct. 10.—An early response to President Wilson's note of inquiry to Prince Maximilian, the German imperial chancellor, is expected by officials here.

While realizing that an answer to the three pertinent questions put to the prince will be very difficult if the original proposal of the German government were not sincere, officials are confident that internal conditions in Germany and the tremendous exigencies of the military situation will force speedy action by the chancellor if he hopes to prolong the existence of his cabinet beyond a few days.

So far as the hold of the government upon the people is concerned, conditions in Austria are even far worse than those in Germany. This fact is calculated to affect strongly the German government, which is understood to entertain grave doubts of the strength of purpose of the dual monarchy and to fear that Austria, or perhaps Hungary, acting independently, will follow Bulgaria in seeking an unconditional peace. This would leave Germany to wage the war alone, for it is a foregone conclusion that Turkey already is lost to the central alliance.

The pointed inquiry directed to Prince Max as to whether he is speaking merely for the constituted authorities of the empire, who have so far conducted the war, will, it is believed, be very embarrassing. If the response is in the affirmative,

Germany's proposal will be rejected, as the president has already given notice that he will have no dealings with such authorities. The powerful Socialist elements in the reichstag also are counted upon to resent any such statement by the chancellor as directly in conflict with the reichstag resolution of July, 1917, and with the very recent pledges to make the cabinet a representative body, under which the Socialists were enticed to take part in the government.

May Lose His Post.

On the other hand, if Maximilian attempts to repudiate the military party he undoubtedly will bring about a demand from that still powerful organization for his retirement and the adoption of a reactionary policy.

The general belief here is that the chancellor will endeavor to find a middle course and confine himself in his reply to half way admissions, hoping thus to begin a long diplomatic discussion, which might develop differences between the entente allies and America as to war aims, and to lower the morale of the armies opposed to the central powers.

Any such move is certain of failure. It is believed, and in the meantime the German armies in the west are being subjected to increasingly hard blows from Marshal Foch's forces—blows which are adding to the difficulties of the German high command in extricating their forces from an already serious situation.

The fact that American Ambassador Sharpe is making a personal investigation of the havoc wrought by the Germans in their forced retirement from French and Belgian territory has led to the belief that it is the purpose of the state department fully to support the enormous claims for damages which Germany must meet as a condition of peace.

DRAPER DAUGHERTY IS MADE CAPTAIN

Draper M. Daugherty, son of Hon. H. M. Daugherty, of Columbus, who has held the rank of First Lieutenant, has been promoted in the field to the rank of captain, according to a letter to his father.

The commission was handed to Captain Daugherty by General Pershing himself while reviewing the truck train of 198 trucks and 1,000 men under Daugherty's command.

The letter says: "I have been in service in big engagements here recently. The battle on July 15 at Chateau Thierry was horrible. I could write a book about just that one day. Our men had to run over dead bodies to get ammunition to the front lines."

Captain Daugherty, who is 28 years old, enlisted as a private in the regular army a few years ago, and for a time was with General Pershing on the Mexican border.

He was commissioned first lieutenant at Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., and was sent to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. He left there in March for overseas duty. Since his arrival in France he has acted as adjutant to the major in command of the Third Division Supply Train.

MICHIGAN POLITICS ARE BADLY MIXED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Detroit, Mich., October 10.—When the voters of Michigan go to the polls in the November election to decide the senatorial contest, they will bring to a climax a situation almost unparalleled in Michigan political history.

Henry Ford, choice of President Wilson, and carrying the endorsement of the democratic organization despite his announced intention of holding himself from all party obligations, will have as his republican opponent Truman H. Newberry, commander of the Third Naval district, and secretary of the navy in the second Roosevelt cabinet.

Mr. Ford declined to make any effort to win nomination at the primary while Commander Newberry likewise took no personal part in the intensive drive in his behalf. Both maintained the same attitude after the primary had returned Newberry the victor on the republican ticket and nominated Ford on the democratic.

Interest centered on the senatorial contest from the moment Ford announced that at President Wilson's request he would accept the nomination if tendered him. He did not specify whether he would make the race as a democrat or a republican, and his name went on both ballots at the primary.

Both candidates came in for severe criticism at the party conventions of their opponents. The democrats met first and party leaders scored the expenditure of slightly more than $176,000 by Newberry's supporters in the primary. Republicans meeting the following day countered with the charge that Ford opposed war and was an unbeliever in the American soldier.

Next in interest to the senatorial fight is a proposed constitutional amendment extending suffrage to women. The amendment was endorsed by both republican and democratic conventions and an active campaign has been conducted in its support.

Republicans are confident they will re-elect the entire state ticket, headed by Governor Albert E. Sleeper. The democrats, however, have a full slate in the field, and are determined to make a strong fight for every office. Their candidate for governor is John W. Bailey.

SUB ATTACKS HOSPITAL VESSEL

(American Press)

Washington, Oct. 10.—Accompanied by three other British ships, a British passenger steamer arrived at an American port carrying 72 officers and enlisted men of the American forces who have been wounded or gassed in France. The convoy of ships, it was declared by passengers, was attacked by a submarine while two days out from a British port. American and British destroyers dropped depth bombs over the spot where the submarine disappeared when calls for help were answered, and it is believed the undersea boat was sunk.
